There wasn't any similar gallery here in Hungary in contrast to the western countries where photography is recognized as an art form.

The gallery deals with photographs in contractual form from hungarian and foreign photographers. These photographs are small-circulation (max 10 copies) artworks justified with a certificate from the artist. Beyond the photograph's trading we organize photo auctions (online and traditional too) with growing success.

With these above the gallery serves dual-purpose:

- on the one hand treats photography as a piece of art
- on the other hand ensures the offer for the customers who are more demanding than choose from large-circulation prints or can't afford an expensive painting

Our experince shows that this market changes continuously and the photograph recognized as a piece of art by now. The gallery organizes exhibitions for foreign and hungarian well-known photographers and also organizes photo competitions with more than 400 participants.
